“SANS training is very valuable because it focuses on what really matters and provides practical and easy ways to improve your security posture.”

– Antonio Sannino, P&G

“This Live Online training has been very productive and is very comparable to in-person training. The detail of information and the instructor’s knowledge was fantastic.”

– Teresa F., U.S. Military

“SANS is the premier learning and certification organization. I highly recommend SANS for those who are attempting certification. Whoever chooses a SANS class, upon completion, you will have taken away a solid understanding of the material (applicable to their work environment and not just theory) and be more prepared for the upcoming exam associated with that class.”

– Anastasio Stefos, Vision Federal Credit Union
